In an attempt to afford each appellant equal and impartial treatment, we have adopted a general practice of assigning appeals in the approximate order of receipt. Your appeal has been assigned number 06-2595. Please mention this number in any future correspondence to this Office regarding this matter.

Requester: Catherine Kane Ronis

Request Number: 06- 1500

Dear Ms. Ronis:

The Executive Office for United States Attorneys has received your Freedom of Information Act request and assigned the above number to the request. Your request was forwarded to us by the Justice Management Division clearing house for FOIA requests. We note that your letter does not mention a U.S. Attorney's Office or the Executive Office for U.S. Attorney's as an agency of your interest.

You have requested records concerning detainees. To the extent that any U.S. Attorney's Office had such records, the records you requested would pertain to particular individuals in the context of criminal prosecution. It is the policy of the Executive Office neither to confirm nor deny that records concerning living third parties exist. Since you have not provided evidence of prosecution of any named, particular individuals, the requested information would be exempt from release pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(6) and/or (b)(7)(C) which pertain to records whose disclosure would result in an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Further, any release to you of such records would be in violation of the Privacy Act. 5 U.S.C. 552a. See U.S. Department of Justice v. Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press et al., 489 U.S. 749 (1989).

If you were to get authorization from any named individuals for the release to you of their records and submit a new request to us with that authorization, please also tell us in your new request which U.S. Attorney's Office you want to have searched for the records.

This is our final action on this above-numbered request. You may appeal my decision in this matter by writing within 60 days from the date of this letter, to the Office of Information and Privacy, Department of Justice, 1425 New York Avenue, Suite 11050, Washington, D.C. 20530-0001. Both the envelope and the letter of appeal should be marked "FOIA Appeal." If you are dissatisfied with the results of any such administrative appeal, judicial review may thereafter be available in U.S. District Court. 28 C.F.R. § 16.9.

Sincerely,

Re: FOIA Appeal: Request 06-1500

Dear Sir or Madam:

On April 25, 2006 Amnesty International USA^{1/} ("Amnesty") and Washington Square Legal Services ("WSLS") filed two requests for information under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") regarding detainees secretly transferred or held by the United States Government, including "Ghost Detainees/Prisoners," "Unregistered Detainees/Prisoners" and "CIA Detainees/Prisoners" ("the Requests") with the Department of Justice ("DOJ") and other agencies. The Justice Management Division of the DOJ referred the Requests to the Executive Office for United States Attorneys ("Executive Office" or "EOUSA") on May 12, 2006. The Executive Office apparently assigned the Requests case number 06-1500 and responded to the Requests on May 24, 2006.^{2/} Copies of the Requests and the response letter are attached. See Exhibits A-C.

In its response, the Executive Office states that we have requested records concerning "detainees," that "[t]o the extent that any U.S. Attorney's Office had such records" these records would pertain to "particular individuals in the context of criminal hearings," and that it is agency policy to "neither to confirm nor deny" that these records exist.^{3/} See Ex. C. It asserts that the

^{1/} Amnesty International USA is the U.S. Section of Amnesty International. See <http://www.amnestyusa.org/about/>.

^{2/} It is unclear whether 06-1500 is the file number assigned to one, both, or neither of the Requests, but we note it here as it is the only identifying code in the response. In addition, since the statutory 20-day time limit has passed within which the Executive Office must determine whether to comply pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552(a)(6)(A)(i) for both of the Requests, we construe the single response letter -- as well as this appeal -- to cover both of the Requests.

^{3/} As an initial matter, it is not clear that all of the records requested would implicate these concerns. For example, the first Request seeks records concerning not only the apprehension of individuals, but also any policies or practices reflecting, discussing, or referring to their transfer, detention and interrogation, as well as the locations where individuals have been, or are currently, detained. See Ex. A at 5. Moreover, the second Request seeks all records reflecting any policy (formal or informal) about the reception, detention or movement of unregistered or ghost detainees (including the "Memorandum of Understanding" mentioned in documents produced by the Department of Defense pursuant to an ACLU FOIA request, and reported in the Washington Post), all records generated in connection with the reporting requirement under § 1093(c) of the Ronald W. Reagan National Defense Authorization Act, all records reflecting communication regarding the United States' Second Periodic Report to the United Nations Committee Against Torture, all records reflecting communications regarding the United States' requested records would be exempt from release under 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(6) and/or (b)(7)(C) and that any release of these records would violate provisions of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552(a). See id.

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552, Amnesty and WSLs hereby appeal the Executive Office's determination regarding the Requests. While FOIA recognizes an agency's need for nondisclosure through enumerated exemptions, FOIA has also placed a burden on the agency to provide adequate explanation for asserting a specific FOIA exemption. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B). An agency must conduct a "thorough search" for responsive documents and must give "reasonably detailed explanations why any withheld documents fall within an exemption." Carney v. U. S. Dep't of Justice, 19 F.3d 807, 812 (2nd Cir. 1994); see also Vaughn v. Rosen, 484 F.2d 820, 826-28 (D.C. Cir. 1973).

Despite the requirements enumerated above, the Executive Office's response does not provide details about the agency's search methods or indicate that the Executive Office even conducted a search for documents responsive to the Requests. Similarly, the response does not contain any information regarding responsive documents that the agency may be withholding, let alone provide a reasonably detailed explanation as to why these documents fall under an exemption(s). Accordingly, the Executive Office has failed to demonstrate that it has complied with its FOIA obligations.^{4/}

Moreover, the specific exemptions the Executive Office cites in its response, 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6) and (7)(C), are not sufficient to warrant the agency's refusal to produce redacted documents. Courts have consistently held that redaction adequately protects personal privacy

Third Periodic Report to the Human Rights Committee, and all records reflecting communications regarding the negotiation or drafting of the draft Convention on the Protection of all Persons from Enforced Disappearance. See Ex. B at 4-7. These records do not pertain to particular individuals in the context of criminal proceedings and should be searched for and -- to the extent the Executive Office possesses any of these records -- produced. In addition, a number of the individuals who have been irregularly or secretly apprehended, transferred or detained have never been the subject of criminal hearings, due to the very nature of their status as secret or irregular prisoners.

^{4/} "The fundamental principle animating FOIA is public access to government documents. Accordingly, (courts) require agencies to make more than perfunctory searches, and . . . to follow through on obvious leads to discover requested documents. An agency fulfills its obligations under FOIA if it can demonstrate beyond material doubt that its search was 'reasonably calculated to uncover all relevant documents.'" Valencia-Lucena v. U.S. Coast Guard, 180 F. 3d 321, 326 (DC Cir. 1999); see also Oglesby v. U.S. Dept of the Army, 920 F 2d 57, 68 (DC Cir. 1990) (the agency must show that it made a good faith effort to conduct a search for the requested records, using methods which can be reasonably expected to produce the information requested).

WILMERHALE

interests such that exemptions 6 and 7 are not triggered.^{5/} Dep't of State v. Ray, 502 U.S. 164, 174 (1991); Dep't of the Air Force v. Rose, 425 U.S. 352, 358 (1976); see also ACLU v. Dep't of Defense, 389 F. Supp. 2d 547, 571-73 (S.D.N.Y. 2005). Accordingly, the Executive Office must produce documents responsive to the Requests, including documents pertaining to particular individuals where it is possible to redact the documents to prevent disclosure of personal, private information.

Amnesty and WSLs have reason to believe that the Executive Office possesses documents responsive to the Requests. The Executive Office is a branch of the Department of Justice ("DOJ")^{6/} that provides the 93 United States Attorneys (94 United States Attorneys' offices) with "general executive assistance and direction, policy development, administrative management direction and oversight, operational support, coordination with other components of the Department and other federal agencies," and certain legal, budgetary, and personnel services.^{7/} The Executive Office is also involved in counter-terrorism efforts within the DOJ.^{8/}

The DOJ has had a role in the U.S. secret detention system. "The existence and locations of the facilities -- referred to as "black sites" in classified White House, CIA, Justice Department and congressional documents -- are known to only a handful of officials in the United States and, usually, only to the president and a few top intelligence officers in each host country"^{2/}

^{5/} Similarly, the Privacy Act provisions cited in the Executive Office's response do not bar the release of redacted records responsive to the Requests. The Privacy Act contains a specific provision exempting information that must be disclosed under FOIA. See 5 U.S.C. § 552a(b)(2). Indeed, the case that the agency cites in its response explicitly states that documents "with identifying names redacted, were generally disclosable" under the Privacy Act. U.S. Dep't of Justice v. Reporters Comm. for Freedom of the Press, 489 U.S. 749, 768 (1989) (emphasis in original).

^{6/} "The Executive Office for United States Attorneys (EOUSA) was created on April 6, 1953, by AG Order No. 8-53 to provide for close liaison between the Department of Justice (DOJ) in Washington, D.C., and the 93 United States Attorneys located throughout the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Guam, the Marianas Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U. S. Virgin Islands." See <http://www.usdoj.gov/usao/eousa/>.

^{7/} See <http://www.usdoj.gov/usao/eousa/mission.html>.

^{8/} EOUSA provides administrative support to the Anti-Terrorism Advisory Councils (ATACs) and has one staff person in EOUSA who is responsible for providing support to ATACs. See <http://www.usdoj.gov/oig/reports/plus/e0507/background.htm>. On September 17, 2001, the Attorney General mandated that each U.S. Attorney establish an ATAC. In September 2001, these groups were called Anti-Terrorism Task Forces. They were renamed Anti-Terrorism Advisory Councils on September 25, 2003. See <http://www.usdoj.gov/oig/reports/plus/e0507/background.htm>. These Councils facilitate information exchange between members; conduct counter-terrorism training; and co-ordinate prosecutorial and investigative strategies among various groups, including the FBI's Joint Terrorism Task Force (JTTF).

(emphasis added). There is evidence that DOJ officials and lawyers both knew about and helped approve the "black site" program.^{10/} Furthermore, it is reported that the CIA set up its secret prisons under its covert action authority.^{11/} Covert actions can only be authorized by a Presidential Finding, which is "reviewed and approved" by the DOJ and other legal advisers.^{12/}

Not only has the DOJ reportedly been involved in authorizing secret detention programs, but there is evidence that the DOJ has been involved in investigating CIA leaks concerning the secret detention system.^{13/}

The Executive Office would also likely have responsive documents relating to statements of persons believed to be currently held in secret detention. For example, on March 28, 2006, in USA v. Moussaoui in the U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Virginia (Alexandria), substitutions for the testimony of Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, Mustafa Ahmed al-Hawsawi, Walid Muhammad Salih Bin Attash, and Riduan Isamuddin ("Hambali") were introduced into evidence.^{14/} All of these four individuals have been identified as persons held in secret detention.^{15/}

^{10/} "The black-site program was approved by a small circle of White House and Justice Department lawyers and officials, according to several former and current U.S. government and intelligence officials" (emphasis added). See Dana Priest, CIA Holds Terror Suspects in Secret Prisons, WASH. POST, Nov. 2, 2005, at A1.

^{11/} See Dana Priest, CIA Holds Terror Suspects in Secret Prisons, WASH. POST, Nov. 2, 2005, at A1.

^{12/} See Dana Priest, CIA Holds Terror Suspects in Secret Prisons, WASH. POST, Nov. 2, 2005, at A1.

^{13/} This is additional information that would not implicate the Executive Office's privacy concerns listed in its response. Media reports indicate that the CIA has asked the DOJ to "prosecute any leakers within its ranks." See <http://abcnews.go.com/US/Investigation/story?id=1587307&page=1>. The DOJ has also "separately opened preliminary investigations into the disclosure of information to The Post, for its articles about secret prisons...": see <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/04/22/washington/22leak.html?ei=5088&en=b5cc2844c89ebaae&ex=1303358400&partner=&pagewanted=print> (also recording that "The disclosures about the prisons provoked an outcry among European allies and set off protests among Democrats in Congress. The leak prompted the C.I.A. to send a criminal referral to lawyers at the Justice Department.").

^{14/} See <http://www.rcfp.org/moussaoui> for copies of these substitutions. The introduction to Khalid Sheikh Mohammed's statement reads "Sheikh Mohammed was captured in March 2003, and has been interrogated over the course of years on multiple occasions since his capture. None of the attorneys for either the prosecution or defense have been allowed access to Sheikh Mohammed, who is not available to testify either in person or by video for national security reasons. However, the lawyers have been given numerous written summaries of Sheikh Mohammed's oral statements made in response to extensive questioning." See

Finally, there is evidence of the existence of U.S. indictments against those currently believed to be held in secret detention, which again implies that the Executive Office may possess responsive documents. For example, Ahmed Khalfan Ghailani has been identified as an individual currently held in secret detention.^{16/} On December 16, 1998, Ghailani was indicted on nine counts in the Southern District of New York for his involvement in the U.S. Embassy bombings in Tanzania and Kenya.^{17/} A bench warrant was also issued for his arrest at this time.^{18/}

In short, the response provided by the Executive Office does not adequately demonstrate that the agency has complied with its FOIA obligations, and there is evidence to suggest that it is likely that the Executive Office possesses documents responsive to the Requests. We therefore respectfully request that the Executive Office conduct a more thorough search, produce any and all responsive documents (in redacted form if necessary), and, if any documents are withheld, provide a detailed explanation for why the exemptions asserted cover each of the documents in question.

We look forward to your reply to this appeal within twenty (20) working days, as required under 5 U.S.C. §552(a)(6)(A)(ii).

Washington Square Legal Services is a not-for-profit corporation that houses the clinical program of NYU Law School.

The requesters plan to disseminate the information disclosed as a result of this Request through the channels described above.

Expedited Processing

Expedited processing is warranted as there is a "compelling need" for the records sought in this Request. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(i)(I). This need arises because the requesters are "primarily engaged in disseminating information" and there is an "urgency to inform the public concerning actual or alleged Federal Government Activity." 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(II). See also 32 C.F.R. § 286.4(d)(3)(ii) (DOD); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(ii) (DHS); 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(d)(1)(ii) (DOJ); 22 C.F.R. § 171.12(b)(2) (DOS).

AI is primarily engaged in disseminating information about human rights, through its reports, newsletters, press-briefings, urgent action requests, and on its website. CHRGI is engaged in disseminating information about human rights, including in particular, the Federal Government's role in upholding human rights. As indicated above, this information is disseminated through published reports and CHRGI's website. The Clinic actively supports this work, and WSLS houses the clinic. As reflected in the media articles cited above, there is an urgent need to provide the public with information relating to the U.S. government's practices concerning unregistered or ghost detainees.

There is also a "compelling need" because failure to obtain the records on an expedited basis "could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual." 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(I). See also 32 C.F.R. § 286.4(d)(3)(i) (DOD); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(i) (DHS); 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(d)(1)(i) (DOJ); 22 C.F.R. § 171.12(b)(1) (DOS). This Request arises in the context of allegations of ongoing unlawful detention and abuse of individuals with the involvement of U.S. agents abroad. Failure to publicly expose and thereby halt any such practices could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the physical safety and lives of individuals whose identities we are unable to ascertain without the records sought herein.

Expedited processing is also warranted because this request involves "[a] matter of widespread and exceptional media interest in which there exist possible questions about the government's integrity which affect public confidence." 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(d)(1)(iv).

AI and WSLs certify that the foregoing statements regarding the basis for expedited processing are true and correct to the best of their knowledge and belief. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(vi). See also 32 C.F.R. § 286.4(d)(3)(iii) (DOD); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(3) (DHS); 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(d)(3) (DOJ); 22 C.F.R. § 171.12(b) (DOS).

As indicated above, we are applying for expedited processing of this Request. Notwithstanding your determination of that application, we look forward to your reply to the Request within twenty (20) days, as required under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i).

Requester: Catherine Kane Ronis

Request Number: 06- 1500

Dear Ms. Ronis:

The Executive Office for United States Attorneys has received your Freedom of Information Act request and assigned the above number to the request. Your request was forwarded to us by the Justice Management Division clearing house for FOIA requests. We note that your letter does not mention a U.S. Attorney's Office or the Executive Office for U.S. Attorney's as an agency of your interest.

You have requested records concerning detainees. To the extent that any U.S. Attorney's Office had such records, the records you requested would pertain to particular individuals in the context of criminal prosecution. It is the policy of the Executive Office neither to confirm nor deny that records concerning living third parties exist. Since you have not provided evidence of prosecution of any named, particular individuals, the requested information would be exempt from release pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(6) and/or (b)(7)(C) which pertain to records whose disclosure would result in an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Further, any release to you of such records would be in violation of the Privacy Act. 5 U.S.C. 552a. See U.S. Department of Justice v. Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press et al., 489 U.S. 749 (1989).

If you were to get authorization from any named individuals for the release to you of their records and submit a new request to us with that authorization, please also tell us in your new request which U.S. Attorney's Office you want to have searched for the records.

This is our final action on this above-numbered request. You may appeal my decision in this matter by writing within 60 days from the date of this letter, to the Office of Information and Privacy, Department of Justice, 1425 New York Avenue, Suite 11050, Washington, D.C. 20530-0001. Both the envelope and the letter of appeal should be marked "FOIA Appeal." If you are dissatisfied with the results of any such administrative appeal, judicial review may thereafter be available in U.S. District Court. 28 C.F.R. § 16.9.

Sincerely,

William G. Stewart II
Acting Assistant Director
